

Preliminary trial date set for developer suing Town of Winnipeg Beach

By Patricia Barrett

A developer alleging the Town of Winnipeg Beach stalled his 44-lot residential subdivision west of Highway 9 will be going to court in November after a judge set a preliminary trial date.

Vince Dery said his Lakewood Estates residential development at the junction of Lake Avenue and Strollway Street had been approved by council in early 2019 but was delayed over the course of about four and a half years.

who Dery, operates Arnes-based VRD Property Developments Inc., told the Express last year that he had been left with no option but to pursue legal action against the town in an attempt to recover what amounts to significant financial losses related to the lots, his expenses and lost income, as well as suffering damage to his reputation.

Dery had filed a statement of claim in Manitoba Court of King's Bench in 2023.

"It went before the presiding judge last month (July 2024) and it got fasttracked for court this November," said Dery last week.

A preliminary trial has been set for Nov. 29.

Dery had said last year that some of the delay stemmed from a high turnover of chief administrative officers. He worked with eight different CAOs on his development. There was also an alleged lack of experience by town staff and council on how to do the development. A contractor that had been "IT WENT BEFORE THE PRESIDING JUDGE LAST MONTH (JULY 2024) AND IT GOT FAST-TRACKED FOR COURT THIS NOVEMBER."

chosen by the town wanted substantially more money to build a road than the contractors Dery had obtained quotes from and who were asking for far less for the exact same work. The town had also asked Dery for different letters of credit; when the subdivision had been approved in 2019, the letter of credit was set at $10,000, but at one point the town had increased it to $1 million before bumping it down to $623,385 in 2022.

Dery retained the services of Winnipeg-based lawyer Dave Hill of Hill Sokalski Walsh LLP.

Gimli's Stefanson Hus Assisted Living nearing completion, fundraising continuing

Sigurdson Family donation climbs to $31,500

By Patricia Barrett

Gimli's Stefanson Hus Assisted Living Facility is accepting applications for tenants and getting closer to reaching its fundraising goal of $2.9 million.

Betel Heritage Foundation (BHF), which built the Waterfront Centre (housing) on First Avenue, is building a seven-storey facility on a lot next door at a cost of about $20 million. It will provide housing and services to seniors to help keep them in the community.

Members of the Sigurdson Family, led by Alma and Raymond Sigurdson, made a large donation in May when BHF launched a fundraising campaign. The family made another donation this month to honour Alma and Raymond's 70th wedding anniversary and to pay tribute to their dedication to helping the community.

"We are honoured to carry on Alma and Ray's tradition of supporting the Gimli community. We don't all live in Gimli anymore, but we do share ties to the community that gave us a start in life," said Marlene Lock in a statement. "Stefanson Hus assisted living building will provide much needed support to seniors like our parents and grandparents to enable them to continue to live in the community that they helped to build."

Waterfront Centre and Betel Heritage Foundation manager Tristin Tergesen said the donation from the Sigurdson family now stands at $31,500, up from the $30,750 they had contributed in May.

In addition to Alma and Raymond, the Sigurdson family are Marlene Lock, Doreen Sigurdson, Sandra Sigurdson and Don Gaudry, Lenore Kersey and Wayne Janz, Eric Zaporzan, Stefan Zaporzan, Julie Lock and Matthew Lazaruk, Evan Lock and Kaitlin Ramsay, and Ingrid and Neil Stevenson.

Barrie and Ardith Sigurdson had made a significant donation of $100,000 in May for the facility.

The Betel Heritage Foundation is a non-profit charitable organization that began in 1998 to support the Betel Personal Care Home. The foundation owns Landmark Apartments (subsidized housing) and the Waterfront Centre's 55-plus apartments. It began constructing the assisted living facility in 2024 to complete an agingin-place campus for Gimli.

BHF receives no government funding and it launched a fundraising campaign in May for Stefanson Hus, which was named after Ernest Stefanson, who along with his partner Claire Gillis, donated $2 million to the facility.

When completed, Stefanson Hus will consist of 40 units consisting of studio, one-bedroom and two-bedroom units. Ten of the suites will have specialized accessibility features and 25 will be designated as affordable units. The facility will provide meals, housekeeping and recreational activities for residents. The seventh floor will have a dining room, a residents' lounge/multipurpose room and a balcony that will overlook Lake Winnipeg.

Tergesen said the foundation has now raised $2.6 million. Another $300,000 is left to raise to reach their goal of $2.9 million. In the meantime, applications are being accepted.

"Construction is nearing completion and applications for residency are open," she said. "Interest is high and suites are filling up quickly."

"What happens is a judge looks at both sets of documents and determines if the case is a waste of time or if it should go to court. And it was decided that we're going to court in November. This is very good for us," said Dery. "I will now have to be interviewed by the town's lawyer in a process called discovery that will give them an idea of the costs involved. I look forward to this interview because I know these matters better than anyone."

The Express contacted the Town of Winnipeg Beach's CAO and mayor for comment.

Mayor Pam Jackson said the town is unable to comment as the matter is before the courts.

"Given that this matter is before the courts, the town will continue to not comment on the claim, except to confirm that this matter is set to proceed with a pretrial conference before a judge of the Court of King's Bench in November 2024," said Jackson.

The Express also reached out to the town's former mayor but did not hear back.

Province restricts cellphone use in K-12 schools

By Patricia Barrett

With ongoing concerns about disruptions to student learning, the provincial government is laying down the law on cellphone use by students in kindergarten to Grade 12.

Starting this September, the province is prohibiting younger students from using cellphones in school but allowing older students to use their phones on breaks or at lunch.

Other provinces such as B.C., Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Nova Scotia have already announced that they'll be banning or restricting cellphones this coming school year to reduce distractions.

The Manitoba Conservatives' education critic Grant Jackson said a few weeks ago that cellphones are a "major problem" in schools and had called on the government to implement a province-wide policy to address a "patchwork" of existing policies that some school divisions had already put in place.

The Manitoba government issued its directive late last week.

"We want young people to be able to focus in class so they can learn more and feel confident. We know cellphones can be a real distraction for students — studies show it can take up to 20 minutes for a child to refocus on what they were learning once distracted," said NDP education and early childhood learning minister Nello Altomare in an Aug. 15 news release. "These provincial guidelines will give teachers the tools they need to keep students focused and ensure class time is spent on learning. Plus, we will take safety and medical concerns into account so all risks are minimized.'

The government will be requiring schools and school divisions to implement updated policies to "ensure consistency" across the province.

Students in kindergarten to Grade 8 will not be allowed to use cellphones in school, including during lunch and breaks. Students in grades 9 to 12 will not be allowed to use cellphones during class time, but they're free to use them during breaks and lunch. School staff must also be given "clear direction" for cellphone use in classrooms. There will some exceptions to the rules in order to support students with "medical and diverse learning needs," said the minister.

Under the Public Schools Act, school divisions are required to establish use of technology policies tailored to local needs, the minister noted.

The problematic nature of cellphones and other digital devices in schools was outlined in 2015 by the Manitoba Teachers' Society. It noted a number of challenges with cellphones, tablets and other devices including texting during lessons, sexting, bullying, taking photos and videos in places such as change rooms and bathrooms, cheating and plagiarism, theft of personal devices and inconsistent standards from one class to the next.

The Evergreen School Division and the Lakeshore School Division had already been working on reducing cellphone distractions in their respective schools through various means, including education.

The Evergreen School Division oversees schools in Arborg, Riverton, Gimli and Winnipeg Beach. Supt. Scott Hill said the province's directive serves as a reminder to the public that cellphone use among children and teens can affect learning and social behaviours.

"We welcome the provincial government's interest and direction in placing limits on cellphones in school in an effort to remove distractions and in support of safe and caring learning environments," said Hill. "We have been on a trajectory of putting our own limits in place, and this directive should provide more consistency across school divisions. It also signals to the public that smartphone use among children, adolescents and teens is a matter worth paying attention to."

When asked how much time teachers spend monitoring cellphone distractions in the classroom, Hill said it's difficult to quantify but can say it's "excessive."

"Beyond the issue of distraction, there is plenty of research — Jean Twenge and Jonathan Haidt are two researchers of note - pointing to a steady decline in adolescent mental health and well-being that corresponds with the rise in the use of smartphones and related social media apps," said Hill. "Research also shows that placing limits on cellphones at school can be a positive step in efforts to improve learning and well-being."

Technology and social media platforms are readily available to children, and they can easily take youngsters into dangerous territory.

For years, Hill said Evergreen teaching staff have been engaged in teaching kids how to use technology safely in order to protect themselves and show respect for others.

"Our schools have been in the habit, for many years, of teaching kids about safe ways to use technology. This includes attention paid to the dangers of common social media apps, protecting oneself online and appropriate online behaviour," said Hill. "This takes place during regular classroom instructional time in various subjects and also with support through materials and resources from the Canadian Centre for Child Protection."

Hill said cellphones are not "critical or necessary" to Evergreen's education plan. The division's priority areas related to student achievement, Indigenous education, well-being and instructional leadership are not dependent on student use of cellphones.

The Lakeshore School Division oversees schools in Lundar, Ashern, Moosehorn, Eriksdale, Fisher Branch, Inwood, as well as the Broad Valley Colony School and Marble Ridge Colony School.

Donald Nikkel, Lakeshore's superintendent of HR, policy and alternative program director, said the division recognizes the challenges that come with and the impacts of cellphone use.

Last fall, Lakeshore's board considered cellphone usage in the classroom and had sent out a survey to gain input. It was decided at that time to continue to allow individual schools to create their own policies, he said. But under the province's directive, Lakeshore will be creating a divisional regulation and procedure to align with the requirements.

"We definitely recognize the challenges with cellphones and the impact that they can have on student focus and interactions. There's a time and a place for cellphone usage, and navigating this technology is a challenge for both adults and students alike. It's our responsibility as educators to help prepare students for their futures and to build the skills that they need to navigate the world," said Nikkel. "There's also a major dif-

"After seeing such high interest from Manitobans, our government is increasing the total amount of funding for security rebates so that more homeowners, renters and small business owners can save money on security measures such as cameras, lights and other products designed to help keep properties safe," said Wiebe. "This is one part of our plan to make communities across Manitoba safer."

The goal of the rebate is to cover the expenses of enhancing security measures for Manitoba residents and small business proprietors. Qualified enhancements consist of installing security cameras, doorbell cameras, alarm systems, motion detectors, reinforced doors or windows, anti-graffiti film and paints, security gates, rolldown protection shutters and permanent security fencing.

Limited space is available in the program, so Manitobans planning to apply should do so as soon as possible, the minister noted. Applications are reviewed on a first-come, first-served basis and the program will be closed when it reaches $2 million in applications. Rebates for those who have already applied are beginning to roll out this week and will continue to be processed over the coming weeks.

Any purchase made after Sept. 1, 2023, is eligible to receive the rebate. It can include multiple expenses for a single property or business, as long as they are submitted together and do not exceed $300. Manitobans with multiple homes or business locations in the province are only eligible to apply once for one location. Ongoing subscriptions or monthly fees for existing security systems are not eligible and only equipment associated with a new security system is covered by the rebate.

Westshore Singers calling for younger members, holding open house

By Patricia Barrett

If you're one of those folks who loves to sing aloud to the radio while driving down the highway or who bursts spontaneously into song in the shower, now's your chance to break out of your bubble and get heard.

The Gimli-based Westshore Singers is putting out a call for younger people — teenagers, 20-, 30-, 40-somethings and so forth — to join them and help bring the joy of music to the community.

Westshore director Karen Lamb said the choir is looking to the future and would like to see new singers getting into the act, especially younger people who might be thinking of a pursuing a career in music and could benefit from a little musical direction and public performance time.

"Our choir members are getting older and we can really use an influx of younger people - and we've gotten a couple of them," said Lamb who used to teach music to kindergarten to Grade 12 students. "We've got one member who is 15 years old, another in his early twenties and a few in their thirties."

The choir has a policy requiring youth under 18 to be accompanied by a parent during rehearsals. The 15-year-old's mother happens to be a member of the choir and new parentyouth singers are welcome.

In addition to looking for younger members, the choir would welcome anyone who simply "loves to sing," said Lamb, who in addition to serving as musical director makes stunning quilts and other textiles and will be holding her 10th quilt raffle (via her personal Facebook page) this fall to help raise money for the Parkinson Canada charity.

Westshore, which will be celebrating its 25th anniversary next year, is made up of singers from communities such as Petersfield, Winnipeg Beach, Gimli, Riverton, Arborg and Teulon. It provides twice-yearly public performances in June and December in Gimli and communities such as Riverton and Arborg.

To help people get familiar with how a choir operates, Westshore is holding an open house for the public on Wednesday, Sept. 4 from 7 to 8 p.m.

"The public or anyone interested in joining the choir is welcome to come out for an hour and see what we do," said Lamb.

The ability to read music is not a prerequisite to becoming a member.

"A certain percentage of our members don't read music and you don't have to know how to read," she said. "But I think if you've sung in a choir for 10 or more years, you've developed an understanding of what's happening with the notes."

Current choir members are preparing to get their vocal cords warmed up after having the summer off. Regular rehearsal nights are on Wednesdays from 7 to 9 at the Gimli Lutheran Church.

On Saturday, Sept. 7 the choir is planning a workshop (with lunch) from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. so that current and newly minted members can get to know each other.

The joy of singing, building a repertoire of songs and acquiring musical knowledge are just some of the benefits of joining in a choir. There's also a social component that helps build community, said Lamb. And members are free to suggest songs they want to sing.

"People suggest songs all the time, and sometimes I use the songs and sometimes I don't," said Lamb. "Sometimes it's a piece they heard a choir sing and they want to try it."

The choir is already looking forward to its winter concert and will be performing three shows on Friday, Dec. 6 in Riverton at the Lutheran Church, on Sunday, Dec. 8 in Gimli at the Lutheran Church, and on Monday, Dec.

8 The Express Weekly News Thursday, August 22, 2024 Ashern safe opened after decades of being locked

By Becca Myskiw

For over five decades, a mysterious 55-year-old safe sat quietly in the Ashern Pioneer Museum, its secrets locked away and forgotten.

Since 1969, no one could open it not because of a lack of effort but due to an elusive lost key. This enigma captured the curiosity of many who visited the museum, their imaginations running wild with what treasures might lie inside.

Fast forward to today: that mystery has finally been unraveled thanks to Rick Ammazzini, a safe-cracking expert known for his unique ability to unlock safes without leaving a trace.

To open a safe, you typically have to take a saw and cut through its walls or call a locksmith to use a drill. A Sandy Hook local, however, has made a name for himself with a very particular skill: he can open any safe without damaging it.

Rick Ammazzini has travelled across the continent, opening safes from Las Vegas to Calgary, Baltimore, Toronto and beyond. Though any locksmith can get into any safe, his method leaves no trace and allows the safe to be used again.

"No one likes a drilled safe, right?" he said.

When the Ashern Pioneer Museum heard about Ammazzini, they contacted him to see if he could open their two safes. After finding a time that worked for them both, it turned out Ammazzini could come on the same day as the mini thresherman's reunion, so he had an audience to watch the fun.

To start, he takes various measurements of the safe's lock, getting every single number he can.

Then, using a few tools, Ammazzini does what's called "exploiting the defects in manufacturing."

"No manufacturing process is 100 per cent perfect," he said. "So, if you know what to do, you can exploit those defects and use it to your advantage."

That's not to say anyone off the street could open any safe, though. Ammazzini's process can take up to four hours and doesn't include alarms, deadlines or panic, making it easy for him to get the job done but not for someone trying to be quick. Throughout the years, he's honed his skills, and Ammazzini can now open a safe in 30 minutes, compared to the typical four hours.

Some safes, though, prove more difficult than others, and Ammazzini can't open them — that's why he says he has a 99 per cent success rate instead of 100 per cent.

That's what happened at the Ashern Pioneer Museum. They had two safes for Ammazzini to open, but one had a lock that was damaged over the years and he couldn't open it. The other safe took him just 25 minutes to open, and inside was a look into the financial history of Ashern.

Behind the thick safe door were the blueprints for Ashern and the original land plots, along with receipts for buildings and building materials, cost breakdowns, dog licences that were never issued and financial records from 1919 that showed a surplus of $7,000 that year.

"When's the last time you heard of any town having a surplus?" said Ammazzini, noting that $7,000 then is equal to more than $125,000 today.

Ammazzini likes the challenge of opening safes, calling each one a new puzzle for him to piece together. He hates seeing old safes get damaged, especially when they're empty inside, making the damage all for nothing. That's why he does what he does so safes across the continent can continue to be reused for years.

He said anyone can use a drill to open a safe, but when people find out he can do it without harming the safe's integrity 99 per cent of the time, they become more interested in his services.

This year, Ammazzini has opened 22 safes. Altogether, he guesses he's opened more than 200.

Fisher Branch Chase the Ace gives away $178,800

By E Antonio

In total, 470 people attended Fisher Branch's weekly Chase the Ace game last Friday, hoping to win the grand prize.

Winnipeg resident Holly Cromarty walked away $178,800 richer after this week's Chase the Ace draw.

Cromarty found the lucky Ace of Spades in the remaining 11-card pile.

Fisher Branch Chase the Ace fundraises for 12 different non-profit organizations.

Each organization shares 35 per cent of the funds raised.

"It will be about $12,500 to each organization," said Fisher Branch Chase the Ace Board Inc. president Karl Barret.

Since the ace was found, the Fisher Branch Chase the Ace Inc. has decided to take a brief break from the weekly draw.

"[We will] be starting back in the beginning of October," said Barret

Be sure to watch Fisher Branch's Chase the Ace Facebook page for any updates regarding the weekly draw.

Arborg's Stansell sisters sizzle with Riverdance-inspired Irish dancing

By Patricia Barrett

Two dancers from Arborg showcased their flare for Irish jigs and reels during performances at the Celtic Ireland Pavilion at Folklorama.

Eliza and Molly Stansell were part of a contingent of dancers from the Winnipeg-based Brady Academy of Irish Dance, which entertained the crowds at the cultural festival. The girls danced every show at the pavilion.

Eliza, 11, started dancing in the fall of 2017 and her younger sister, Molly, 8, followed suit in 2018, said their mom, Jenna Stansell. They're seasoned performers with prior performances at Folklorama.

The girls were inspired to learn how to dance after seeing a television show that featured an Irish dancer.

"They got into Irish dancing after watching a show called The Wiggles when they were little. One of the girls on the show was an Irish dancer and they just loved it," said Stansell. "We found the Brady Academy in Winnipeg and they've been loving Irish dancing ever since."

Stansell said they make the trip to Winnipeg two or sometimes three times a week for practices.

Not only do the girls perform at events such as Folklorama, but they also take part in Irish dance competitions, called a feis (pronounced fesh).

"They dance at competitions but none of them are in Manitoba. So we have to do a lot of long-distance travelling for competitions that are held in Saskatchewan, Edmonton and Minneapolis," she said. "This fall they're going to Calgary to compete."

The Brady Academy of Irish Dance was established in 1983 to teach students traditional reels, jigs and other dances and to provide them with an opportunity to showcase their skills at community events and take part in Irish dance competitions across western Canada. In addition to Winnipeg, the school has locations in Edmonton, Fort McMurray and Calgary. It's the largest Irish dance school in Canada, according to its website.

Irish dance requires athleticism, precision and discipline to perform the intricate steps and jumps. Footwork is emphasized as Irish dancers don't move their arms and hands.

Brady Academy — along with vol-unteers and dancers' parents — hosts the Celtic Ireland Pavilion at Folklorama with the school's dancers showcasing award-winning Riverdance-style footwork and choreography. Riverdance is a theatrical troupe that performs a blend of traditional Irish and modern dance. It rose to prominence in the 1990s and still tours around the world.

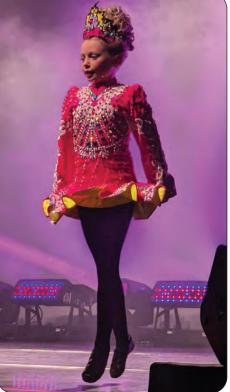

The two-week cultural festival wound up last Saturday after a twoweek run.

Eliza Stansell, 11, started Irish dancing in 2017 and performed at the Celtic Ireland Pavilion last week during Folklorama. She and her sister Molly dance competitively.

"The Celtic Ireland Pavilion is pretty amazing, and it's one of the pavilions that has the most sold-out shows," said Stansell.

Lakeshore schools and teachers currently have a variety of guidelines and strategies in place to limit cellphone use and to ensure they're not distracting students; those measures are "largely" successful. Lakeside Lions host Amazing Race challenge

By E Antonio

A total of 142 racers hit the streets for the second annual Winnipeg Beach and Dunnottar Lakeside Lions Amazing Race Challenge.

Thirty-three teams participated, with registration nearly doubling from their premier event in 2023.

On Aug. 11, teams of two to seven people raced across Winnipeg Beach, Matlock, Sandy Hook, Ponemah and Whyteworld to accumulate the most points. This year's event was a huge success.

"We sent out a survey to the racers and challenge hosts and received such positive feedback," said Winnipeg Beach and Dunnottar Lakeside Lions vice-president Lisa Boyer.

Boyer wants this event to occur in the community because she wants to promote the unique attractions the community has to offer.

"We have such a great little community with so many hidden gems, and offering the race lets people get to see everything in the area that they might not know about," explained Boyer.

During the Lakeside Lions Amazing Race, participants were required to complete various unique tasks and challenges to earn points.

In 2023, there were various challenges to overcome, such as eating a burger without using hands, completing obstacle courses and a beloved fire hall activity.

"The firefighters were our No. 1 challenge host," said Boyer.

Participants had the opportunity to use a fire hose and knock down targets.

The Lakeside Lions Amazing Race Challenge kicked off at 11 a.m. at the Winnipeg Beach Municipal Recreation Centre. Racers then travelled across the surrounding communities and finished their race by 3 p.m. at the Winnipeg Beach Bandstand.

After the race, prizes were awarded to the teams who completed the most challenges and those by random draw.

The 2024 race day featured 26 different challenges for team members to try. Many hosts from the previous year also made a comeback, adding to the already thrilling atmosphere.

The Matlock Fire Department returned providing just as much excitement as last year.

Race contestants had to complete three tasks in gear: unroll and roll a firehose, knock down four targets and drag Ruth to safety.

"There were lots of smiles and fun to be had," Boyer added.

Some other popular events included the Kernstead Road Challenge, which required participants to complete three different tasks: reversing a small trailer with a quad, participating in a water balloon toss, and working collaboratively to walk as one unit while wearing planks on their feet.

Zumba with Jan Keryluk at the Bandstand was also a huge hit. To receive their points for the challenge, competitors completed a 10-minute Zumba workout.

"It was great fun for everybody," noted Boyer.

The weather was perfect for the day of adventure, with clear skies and 20 degrees C; it was ideal racing weather.

"We could not have asked for better weather," said Boyer.

Racers of all ages from around the province rallied to see if they could be the top team at Lakeside Lions Amazing Race.

"There were lots of locals who attended, but a lot of people from Winnipeg came too."

The Winnipeg Beach and Dunnottar Lakeside Lions are honoured to be able to host the Amazing Race.

"We want to serve our community however we can," explained Boyer.

Additionally, the Lakeside Lions make an effort to support and assist the local community in any way they can.

Boyer extends her sincere gratitude to the members of Winnipeg Beach and Dunnottar Lakeside Lions Club and the volunteers who donated their time to host the Amazing Race Challenge.

Icelandic Open hosts 24th annual charity golf tournament

By Kieran Reimer

The Icelandic Festival of Manitoba has included a charity golf tournament for the past two decades before the Icelandic Festival kicks off.

On Friday Aug. 2, the Icelandic Open returned to Links at the Lake in Gimli for the 24th annual rendition with 118 golfers primarily of Icelandic heritage participating in the tournament that helps raise funds for the Icelandic newspaper, Lögberg-Heimskringla.

This year they raised over $25,000.

"It was excellent, everybody had a wonderful time," said Lenore Good, co-chair of the tournament. "The feedback from the golfers was really positive."

Every year the Icelandic Open has a legacy sponsor that supports the event. This year's was the Arborg Chapter of Icelandic National League who became the legacy sponsor to honour Dave Gislason, a frequent participant at the Icelandic Open and a prominent individual in the Icelandic community, who passed away in 2023.

Gislason was also a pioneer for using bees in horticulture and he is an inductee in the Manitoba Agriculture Hall of Fame.

Good said Gislason's daughters Shelly and Kathy and grandchildren participated in this year's tournament.

"What we've been doing is highlighting the legacy of someone who has made a major contribution to the community as part of the golf tournament," said Good. "He was the son of an Icelandic immigrant who was very prominent in the Icelandic community in Arborg. He was an exceptional individual in many respects.

David Gislason's daughters, Shelly Gislason and Kathy Palsson.

He spoke fluent Icelandic and passed on the culture to younger people in the community."

Local celebrities also came out to golf and show support at this year's event.

Curling superstars Kerri and Kyle Einarson of Gimli competed and won the event alongside teammates Nathan Krulicki and Trevor Skopata.

The foursome shot a total score of 60 through 18 holes of best-ball play to win.

"It's really fantastic to have local celebrities," said Good. "She's a world champion curler, Kerri, and they have been coming to our tournament for years so we really appreciate their participation."

This year's tournament also had one of its youngest fields of competitors in recent years as it continues to go strong.

Good said there were golfers ranging from 30 to 80 years old competing with many coming from the 30 to 50 range.

The tournament also featured live and silent auctions, prizes, music and supper following the round.

"It's been a tradition in the Icelandic community to have the major fundraiser for the newspaper, which is the charity," said Good. "The Lög- berg-Heimskringla serves the Icelandic community in the Interlake but also across Canada and the United States. There are even subscribers in Iceland. We have the tournament every year to supplement our funds. We're a charity."

Good, along with fellow co-chair Joanne Gudmundson, is expecting another big turnout for 25th annual Icelandic Open in 2025.

Fun times on the streets of Arborg

The streets in Arborg came alive Aug. 9 to 11 for the 11th Annual Arborg Street Festival. Thousands filled the streets Friday night for the parade, which kicked off the weekend of family fun.

Arborg Street Festival committee member Jordan Cook labelled the 2024 event as a huge success.

"We had great weather for the weekend and many people were in attendance," he explained.

The sun shone and a gentle breeze blew as friends and families gathered along Main Street, eager to participate in the celebrations.

The festivities began on Friday evening with a parade featuring lively floats from locals.

"We had a lot of compliments on how nice the parade was from people in the community," said Cook.

Friday's events continued well into the night. The legion hosted a scrumptious perogy dinner, followed by opening speeches from dignitaries, the fan-favourite Pluck-a-Duck, the touch-a-truck event and live music, keeping festival-goers entertained all night long.

Nick Burdy was the lucky winner of the Pluck-a-Duck contest, sharing 50 per cent of the $2,900 raised for the Arborg Street Festival.

Friday's party ended with a shimmering fireworks display.

The annual community-wide garage sale made its return.

"There were a lot of yard sale signs throughout town, which was nice to see," said Cook.

Saturday's lineup boasted a variety of talented artists. Angie led a vibrant session of Colour Zumba, while Flame Syndicate lit up the stage with their fiery performance. Attendees were also kept entertained by several dancing groups, a magician's performance and other live-music acts.

The youngest participants got to compete in a competition of their own at the Arborg Street Festival.

NorTech Mechanical and Norseman Metals sponsored the Children's Tractor Pull, in which kids competed against each other to see who could pedal a tractor and a trailer the furthest.

Cook noted that the tractor pull was extremely successful.

"The kids had the biggest smiles on their faces," he added.

Cook thanks Mike, Holly and Chelsea Lupky, who pioneered the Children's Tractor Pull.

They custom-built the tractors and hosted the event, which was "very well received by all in attendance," said Cook.

During the day, various other activities were also available, including 3-on-3 basketball, axe throwing, henna art, video games, multiple food and trade vendors, and a petting zoo for families to enjoy.

"Many people also took their turn on the dunk tank," Cook noted.

The Arborg Street Festival committee extends their gratitude to all the businesses and organizations who donated their time and products to help make the festival free for the community.

A special shout-out goes to Keegan Sfefanson, who assisted with the music and sound equipment for the stage performances, and to master of ceremonies Jay Ewert.

Cook said, "It takes the support of local businesses and organizations to make this possible."

He thanked the dedicated volunteers of the Arborg Street Festival, who generously contributed their time towards organizing the event and explained that planning for the Arborg Street Festival is a year-long event with many meetings and fundraising events being held.

The planning committee is always looking for more locals to join their crew. If you are interested in volunteering for Arborg's 2025 Street Festival, please email arborgstreetfestival@gmail.com.

Another year of the Moosehorn Community Celebration in the books

By Autumn Fehr

Everyone had a good time at this year's Moosehorn Community Celebration, which took place from Aug. 9 to 11. Approximately 750 to 800 people attended the three-day celebration.

Most of the weekend events were free of charge, with no pre-registration required, and included a pancake breakfast, a parade, entertainment and so much more.

Friday night bingo kicked off the celebrations.

The Moosehorn Fire Department was in charge of breakfast Saturday morning and served 200 delicious pancake breakfasts.

The RCMP led the parade following breakfast, with Laurel and Halle Meisner on horseback and 17 entries.

"The communities supported our parade by coming out in carloads, and they were rewarded. We saw bags and bags of goodies handed out to the attendees, as well as 100 free soft ice cream cones given in memory of past president of the community club Alf Nachtigall," said Dawn Tober, one of the event organizers.

MLA Derek Johnson made an appearance at the community event for the ribbon-cutting ceremony to recognize the Moosehorn Community Sports Grounds Revitalization project.

"Many volunteers have contributed to this project, but special mention is given to Brian Kiesman and Glen Bittner for the hours of labour they dedicated," said Tober.

"The grounds, skating rink and buildings look amazing," she added. Throughout the day, event-goers could visit the arts and crafts sale at the curling rink, where there were 11 vendors present to showcase their creations to purchase.

To celebrate 50 years strong and present in the community, the Moosehorn Museum shared cupcakes and free coffee with all who visited the buildings. Outside the museum, the executive held their annual media sale, which was welcomed by donors and customers alike.

Wayside Park had a steady lineup of talent on Saturday and Sunday, with various performances by Tim Cameron, the Chuck Whittier Duo, Ashern Holubka Dancers and others.

Children's activities kept the youngsters busy throughout the weekend. Lloyd Nickel operated a rebuilt John Deere tractor and trailer that provided tractor and wagon rides.

Saturday evening, the Peace Lutheran Church, in partnership with the Moosehorn Baptist Church, put on a steak supper with all the fixing for $25

The celebration ended with a bang, with fireworks sponsored by the Moosehorn Co-op and displayed by Wayne Jackson. The New Covenant Quartet closed the event with entertainment.

This event has rotated through the surrounding communities for over 20 years, from Faulkner/Steep Rock to St. Martin/Gypsumville to Moosehorn. A few disruptions have occurred throughout the decades, such as the 2011 flood and COVID-19, but the community event has continued strong.

"Times are changing. Let's hope our communities can continue this energy and share the heart of our small towns," said Tober.

Tober said putting the initial executive team together and rounding up volunteers was difficult. Still, once Pastor Rick took the lead, secretary Dianne Bittner kept them on sched-

"On Saturday, Aug. 10, you want to know where our youth and teens were? They were in Moosehorn volunteering alongside all of us older bodies — working the canteen, running the children's games, handing out treats manning the barricades at the parade and anything else they were assigned to do," said Tober.

But above all, Tober's favourite part of the three-day event was the unbelievable community spirit.

The event was indeed a community effort.

As with many community events, it is only possible with the hard work and dedication of sponsors, the executive, committee members, volunteers and vendors.

Team East 17U basketball hang with the best at 2024 Manitoba Games

By Kieran Reimer

The Team East Region 17U boys basketball team surpassed even their expectations at the 2024 Manitoba Games in Dauphin.

After months of training, Team East finally took to the court for the preliminary round of Pool B last Monday and won the pool after defeating both Team South and Team North.

Though they then dropped both a semi-final and bronze medal game to finish fourth, Team East feels they proved many people wrong about how their tournament played out.

"Nobody there expected us to play that good," said Team East's Jake Bourcier, who is from Stony Mountain. "Obviously not playing the best in the bronze and semi-final but our round robin, nobody expected us to go out there and play how did and get to where we did. It felt awesome."

Bourcier played locally this past season with the Winnipeg Minor Basketball Association's Stonewall Swarm, who he helped to an undefeated championship season.

Bourcier made Team East as a 16-year-old and described the level of play as three times more difficult than what he had seen this season in the WMBA.

"It was a crazy experience just how some of those guys could do almost everything," said Bourcier. "Everybody was so talented there and it was a sight to see. Every player is like a weapon."

Bourcier and Team East played their strongest games on opening day.

Their opening win against Team South was their most significant victory of the Games, winning 86-59.

Peewee Thunder changing their approach after 0-2 start

By Kieran Reimer

It's been a rocky start to the season for the Peewee Interlake Thunder.

The club is 0-2 and have been outscored 66-6 in their losses to the East Side Eagles last Monday and the Fort Garry Lions last Saturday in the home opener at Stonewall Collegiate Field.

Now as they get ready to go again on Saturday, Aug. 24 against the Eastman Raiders, they are taking the time to re-evaluate their game plan.

"Defensively it will be a lot of skills, as far as structure goes defensively, we're in a pretty good spot," said head coach Jared Boville on Monday afternoon. "For offence, right now it's a bit more equal opportunity. Whoever is open or is in a certain position, that's where we are looking to get the ball to, but the reality is we're going to have to focus on getting the ball into our playmaker's hands."

With only six points to show for in the two games, Boville said they will need to make tweaks to their current offensive plays.

Thunder QB Weston Preun has been Boville's go-to ace so far this season.

Preun is in his second season with the Thunder and is one of their leaders on and off the field.

Though he is still looking for a breakout game this season, Boville said he's liked his game early on and with a little help from his defensive line, the big plays will start to come.

"He's been playing really well, I wouldn't put the offensive struggles on him," said Boville. "The offensive line struggled to protect last game which is funny because in the first game the offensive line was very dominant. It was just we weren't catching the ball or running the ball, the skilled position players. Even on Saturday there was probably six drops where Weston put it right on the money and they couldn't haul it in so our offence, and I've told the kids, it's going to live and die by how well the offensive line plays. If they can give Weston time he's going to find guys."

Aside from the offensive inconsistencies, it's been getting down in games early that has really been the Thunder's downfall early on.

In both games the Thunder gave up multiple touchdowns in the opening quarter, some coming from fumbles and interceptions, which has prevented their offence from being able to get comfortable early in games.

Boville said a strong start will be part of the game plan against the Raiders.

"You can't get down. In the Lions game we were down 12-0 in the first five minutes and that was similar to what happened in the Eagles game.

EXPRESS PHOTOS BY LANA MEIER

The Thunder's offensive line look to block the Fort Garry Lions in Peewee football action last Saturday. The Thunder lost 30-0.

Getting a few stops to start and maybe putting some points on the board early is definitely going to be good. They do a good job at making adjustments but we need to do that from the start so we don't dig ourselves a hole."

The Thunder will head to Steinbach for Saturday's game against the Raiders. The Raiders are 1-0 this season after winning their season opener 30-0 last Saturday against the Sunrise Coyotes in Springfield.

Kick-off will go at noon at A.D. Penner Park.

> BASKETBALL, FROM PG. 16

After the round-robin finale victory over Team North, Team East held the best points differential at the time, plus 31, ahead of the eventual undefeated champs in Team West #2.

Bourcier credited the success to the team's comfort playing together since head coach Alex Barra and staff announced the roster in early May.

"What stuck out was actually getting chemistry with the team," said Bourcier. "As a team we all felt closer from the start to the end. Just going out and watching games together, going over plays, watching games and just trying to figure out how to break teams down. It's a really good bonding experience."

Though it didn't end the way they wanted, Team East is still happy with how they came together and came one win short of medalling in Manitoba's toughest tournament.

As Bourcier and Team East join the rest of Manitoba basketball players in the midst of their off-season, Bourcier is getting excited for another big campaign in 2024-25.

He said his goal is to play club basketball in Winnipeg and high school in the Manitoba High Schools Athletic Association.

The Team East Region 17U girls basketball team had some very exciting games and made it to the bronze medal game last Saturday.

After going 1-1 in group play, Team East's point differential was the deciding stat that earned them a berth in the semi-final round.

In the semi-finals Team East took the eventual champion Team Winnipeg Blue down to the final seconds of the game, falling 51-48 in the end. With the loss, Team East played Team Winnipeg Gold for the bronze medal on Saturday morning at Parkland Recreation Complex.

Team East unfortunately finished fourth and lost 59-42 to Winnipeg Gold who had only lost one game all tournament.

Team East No. 2 give undefeated Team South No. 2 biggest scare of tournament

By Kieran Reimer

A berth in the gold medal game at the 2024 Manitoba Games baseball semi-finals came down to one swing of the bat in Dauphin last Wednesday.

After turning a four-run deficit into one with the bases loaded against an undefeated Team South No. 1, Team East Region No. 2 fell a single run short of the tournament's biggest upset.

Team East, coached by Rhys Morris, went on to then lose a 16-14 heartbreaker to Team Winnipeg Blue in the bronze medal game, falling just short of a medal.

"That's just how baseball goes," said Morris following the Games. "Matchups go one way or the other and we ended up coming out on the short end of the stick."

When the tournament began, Team East didn't expect to be in medal contention. They got off to a 0-2 start in group play and saved their playoff hopes in the final round-robin game after coming back from being down 11-0 against Team South #2 to win 13-12.

Though they lost both the semi-final and bronze medal games, they demonstrated their resilience in both.

They trailed by over seven runs both times, yet they came on late for thrilling finishes.

As they fell short of a medal, Morris said he was proud that his team didn't give up in the toughest moments.

"Our team battled really well and scored a lot of runs offensively, but I felt at times our defence was kind of our weak spot. But the way we battled in that semi-final game, I was very proud of what we did on the field that day. To take them to the limit that we did was pretty impressive to watch them compete that way."

Morris also coaches the Team Manitoba U15 baseball team along with the U18AAA North Winnipeg Pirates.

Morris and fellow coach Tyler Wood originally got their first look at some of Team East's members in November during off-season development camps.

They held tryouts in June and made the final roster, though finding time for practices and exhibition games was difficult due to club schedules for the players and themselves with their teams.

Morris said when the Games began, it was the first time the club got to know each other by staying in Dauphin in an Olympic-like athlete's village.

As the team spent more time together, so grew the team chemistry. They turned their tough start in the round robin into an exciting run through the playoff round, with a team that felt like it had been together for much longer than a couple of weeks.

"It brought teams closer together and helped them build a lot of camaraderie because you spent so much time together there, and that might be different than other teams and tournaments I've gone to," said Morris.

"The way they would come around the field and smile, they were always having a good time. A lot of the things that me and Tyler talked about on the ride home from the games was a lot of the funny experiences we had away from the diamond. Just talking to them in the lunch room or anything that we were doing, it was a lot of the conversations we had with the kids. Those were the things that stuck out at the end of the day for us."

East Team No. 2 included Dylan Zubert (Oakbank), Aiden McConnell (East Selkirk), Maverick Mcfarlane (Oak Bluff), Cohen Linsenmeier (St. Andrews), Jensen Freiter (St. Andrews), Decalan Fisher (Narol), Thoren Corbett (Rosser), Gemma Strutynski (Oakbank), Mason Jensen (Winnipeg), Chase Murray (Stonewall), Jayke Witzke (Beausejour) and Luke Janzen (Beausejour).

Softball more than just a competition at 2024 Manitoba Games

By Kieran Reimer

It wasn't the result they had hoped for, yet the 2024 Manitoba Games was still a great opportunity to make new friends and represent the area for Team East Region's softball team.

Though the club may have gone 0-4 in Dauphin, for players like Teulon's Kara Powroznik, it was a tournament she won't soon forget.

"What I'll take from this experience is the new friendships I've made from my team and from others," said Powroznik. "As well, I was lucky enough along with my team that our seasons didn't end after AA provincials in July and we got to keep playing ball which allowed me to keep working at sport I really enjoy playing."

Powroznik and other members on Team East have been playing softball nonstop all spring and summer.

Her along with other players on the team like locals Emma Hennessey (Stonewall), Dani Park (Stony Mountain), Easla Isfjord (Stonewall) and Veronica Varnes (Warren) wrapped up their club seasons only three weeks ago at Softball Manitoba Provincials with some playing right up to the tournament at Western Canada Championships. As for Powroznik, her summer was one of the busiest. The 14-year-old outfielder/infielder played for both the Teulon Cardinals and the U15 AA Interlake Maroons on top of the Manitoba Games.

She said her season dates even further back into 2023 when head coach Nikki Mathews and the Team East staff originally began assembling the roster for Dauphin, one that Powroznik knew she wanted to be on.

"It was exciting to be chosen and to be one of the girls representing Team East," said Powroznik. "This process started close to a year ago and there were quite a few girls who tried out for this team last fall."

At the Games, Team East's closest game came last Friday morning in their third game of competition.

The club lost a close 7-5 game to Team Winnipeg Blue where they showed they could handle the stiff competition of a team like Winnipeg Blue who went on to win the bronze medal over Team Winnipeg Gold.

With the Games at a close, Powroznik looks forward to another busy season which will begin at tryouts with the AAA Interlake Phillies.

CELEBRATION OF LIFE

Carolyn Adamko

Carolyn Adamko, a beloved wife, mom, sister and friend, passed away on Sunday June 9th, 2024 at Health Sciences Centre encompassed in love and peace. She was 72 years young.

A kind and caring soul, Carolyn was born Carolyn Anne Brading in 1952 in Bowsman, Manitoba to parents Annie and Bill Brading. Her earliest memories were of life on the family farm, having fun with her brother Willard, working together to ensure the farm thrived and attending Wild Rose, a one room schoolhouse. Following the completion of high school in Swan River, she moved to Winnipeg and took a key punching course at Success Business College. In 1972 she met Don, her love of her life, and in 1975 they married, and she became a military wife, following him to numerous locations in Saskatchewan, Alberta, Ontario, and Germany before settling on their acreage in Manitoba.

Carolyn raised three beautiful children, Heidi, Hadria and Sean, and sponsored three exchange students from Austria, Norway and Costa Rica. She spent countless hours supporting her children in their activities, and with their schooling. The kid's friends all knew Mrs. Adamko and wouldn't hesitate to ask her for help. Her greatest joy and passion was watching her seven grandchildren grow up, enjoying their laughter and being with them as much as possible.

Her nurturing nature showed up in all her hobbies. She loved gardening, growing house plants and making her flower beds beautiful. She loved sewing, knitting and crocheting, in the early years sewing matching outfits for Don and her to wear, sewing clothes and costumes for her children and then making baby blankets for her grandchildren. She was an active supporter of all fundraisers but was particularly involved with Project New Hope – a non-profit supporting Veterans with PTSD. Carolyn loved music, playing the piano for her family when she was young and later on dancing with Don and her friends at the Old Tyme dances.

Her warm open-hearted spirit had a lasting impact on all of us and she will be greatly missed. In lieu of flowers, family will be collecting donations for Project New Hope of Canada.

A Celebration of Life will be held on Saturday, September 7, 2024 at 10 a.m. in Meadow Lea Hall at junction of Highway 227 with 248 (approximately 3 miles North of Marquette). A lunch will be held after the service followed by an Old Tyme Dance from 1-5 p.m. Everyone is welcome. No charge for Celebration/Dance. A donation box will be available.

For those planning on attending, please reply by Text or Phone to Don 204-461-1615 for food planning purposes.

Ronald Kristjion Johannson

September 25, 1943 – August 10, 2024 It is with deep sadness that we announce the sudden passing of Ronald Johannson.

Ron leaves to mourn his children, Verne (Bonnie), Bruce and Christine (Kelly); his grandchildren, Ryder, Colton (Haley), Breeze (Alex), Sabryna, Madison (Glen) and Ashley (Brett); his greatgrandchildren, Jayden, Braylon, Benjamin, and Callie; his siblings, Wally (Sandra), Lawrence (Carol), Barbara (Bernest) and Neil (Denise), brother-in-law Peter and sister-in-law Shirley (Gordon).

Ron was predeceased by his loving wife Norma, his parents Gudrun and Thorkell, his sister Eleanor and sister-in-law Suzanne. Ron was born in Arborg on September 25, 1943. Growing up he gained his strong work ethic helping on the family farm and in his dad's garage. He was a gifted athlete who loved sports, especially hockey and baseball. Ron and Norma were married on December 24, 1963. Ron was just beginning his career with Manitoba Hydro, which brought the family to many communities throughout Manitoba. Wherever the job took them they were always involved in the community and always felt welcomed. During this time Ron achieved his dream of obtaining his pilot's license and purchasing a plane. Ron and Norma eventually moved to Great Falls, Manitoba where they made many lifelong friends. They then purchased the family farm where they built their forever home. Ron was very proud of the fact that they built it themselves with the help of their family and friends. Ron started a second career with Abitibi Paper Mill where he worked until his retirement. Following retirement, Ron and Norma enjoyed many winters spent in Arizona, and later in Texas. Ron was very mechanically inclined and was always fixing farm machinery or inventing something to make the work more efficient. He loved farming, especially with his son Bruce.

Ultimately, Ron's greatest love was his family. Nothing made him happier than when his kids, grandkids and great-grandkids were home for a visit. He was proud of each and every one of them and they will all cherish their time spent with him.

"Dad your guiding hand on our shoulders will remain with us forever."

The family would like to extend their gratitude to the Pine Falls ambulance, the Powerview RCMP and the Pine Falls Hospital.

OBITUARY

In Loving Memory of William Carlyle Eyolfson April 22, 1943 - August 15, 2024

It is with great sorrow that we announce the sudden passing of William (Bill) Eyolfson of Lundar, MB, on August 15, 2024, at the age of 81.

Bill is survived by his children, Mark (Lisa), Corey (Dana-Jo) and Christa (Robert); grandchildren, Tyler (Zarah), Riley (Joanna) and Amber; along with nieces, nephews, and many other family, friends, and loved ones too numerous to list, but you know who you are.

Bill has been welcomed into heaven by his wife, Evelyn Eyolfson (Schultz), who will have Dad's spot at the table ready; his parents, Oscar and Paulina Eyolfson; brothers, Lorne, David, and Fred; and his sister Shirley.

Bill was born on April 22, 1943 at the E.M. Crowe Memorial Hospital in Eriksdale. He attended school in Lundar then worked at G&E Cash Store which was co-owned by his father. Bill's involvement with the family store, combined with his warm smile and outgoing personality, made him a well-known person in the community. Bill and Evelyn were married on December 29, 1965 and started their family in 1969, moving from Winnipeg to Deerhorn, in 1972, where they raised their three children and ran the store in Deerhorn. In 1973 Bill took a carpentry course in Lundar and it proved to be a pivotal moment, leading him to establish his own company and later embark on a new journey which took him into Canada's arctic working for Public Works Canada and the Hudson Bay Company, yielding a lifetime of experiences and adventures, with exciting stories that he loved to share. Later in life, Bill and Evelyn opened their home to many children in need of care, sharing their generosity with open arms. Many of these connections remained strong and will not be forgotten. Some of Bill's passions included hockey, fishing, and hunting. He was especially fond of birdwatching. In Bill's younger years he was a very talented sign painter in Winnipeg. He loved to create and could effortlessly add his own artistic twist to the many projects he undertook. Bill also loved to fire up his lawnmower and zip around town at top speed, generously cutting the lawns of friends and family along the way.

The memories of Bill will be cherished in the hearts of those who knew him for the rest of their lives, and he will be forever missed. There will be a private service for immediate family. Your thoughts and prayers are greatly appreciated.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Bill's memory to the E. M. Crowe Memorial Hospital Guild, c/o Irene Sigurdson, Box 474, Eriksdale, MB R0C 0W0.

The family extends their heartfelt gratitude to the staff of the E.M. Crowe Memorial Hospital for their exceptional care and compassion which made Bill's final days as comfortable as possible. We would also like to thank Arnason Funeral Home for their compassionate care and professional services during this difficult time.
